

Center for European Studies (CES)

Analysis of economic and social development, internal affairs and foreign policy of the West European countries has been one of the key scientific directions of the Institute since its foundation. In different years the division of West European studies was headed by such prolific Russian scientists as Y. Yudanov, V. Shenaev, V. Baranovsky, E. Khesin, V. Gutnik.

In its current form the Center was established in 2001 on the basis of the research Center for European integration and key countries of Western Europe. For more information about the history of CES, see: Gutnik V. Khesin E. European studies: preserving traditions and looking for new approaches // World economy and international relations. 2006. №4.